

Note to teacher: This can be enlarged and used to make actual masks for a drama or kinaesthetic type activity if required. On the day I had some actual masks brought back from Africa. If you interested in taking a school party to get a taste of Africa then a starting point is the Africa Centre in Covent Garden in London link. And I can also recommend the Gordon Reece Gallery for small groups in Harrogate if you are in the North of England link.